

Alex Luc serves as Group Vice President at Norfolk Southern responsible for International Intermodal. Alex first joined NS as Analyst in 2012 and since has held numerous positions within the Intermodal and Automotive group, including stints on the Business Process and Systems, Maintenance, Domestic Intermodal, and the Terminal and Services Planning teams. He has participated in various industry groups including Intermodal Association North America (IANA) committees and the Chicago Car Interchange Bureau (CCIB).

Prior to joining Norfolk Southern, Alex spent ten years with Membership Marketing Services (MMS), a firm specializing in political action committee fundraising, where he last served as the Vice President of Operations and Technology. Alex holds a bachelor's degree in Information Systems from Catawba College as well as a Master's degree in Business Administration from Old Dominion University.